AGN International exalts Change at 2014 World Congress

More than 70 delegates gathered in New Delhi (India) for the 19th AGN International World Congress hosted at the mesmerizing Gurgaon Oberoi hotel where the conference kicked off on the 2nd November. The conference, entitled 'Change worth making', mixed participative working sessions with time focusing on training and development.

The focal point of the first day meeting was on 'Making Change', 'Branding' and 'Business Development'. On the second day, attendees joined split sessions prepared by the two AGN International Committees specialized into Tax; Accounting & Audit. Then delegates attended a presentation about 'Surviving the Change & Enjoying the journey'. Malcolm Ward, AGN International CEO concluded the sessions with an engaging presentation about the Future of the AGN Brand and its new culture to be shaped.

Malcolm Ward, Chief Executive Officer of AGN said:

"This was a very successful event, both enjoyable but also contributing commercial value to our members. The energy, commitment and engagement of delegates gives me great optimism for the future development of AGN"
