Gainesville, FL (March 22, 2023) – James Moore & Company is pleased to announce the firm has been named one of Accounting Today's Firms to Watch nationwide! Accounting Today also included James Moore as one of its 2023 Regional Leaders.

The leading information resource for public accountants nationwide, Accounting Today cited James Moore as one of 45 firms across the nation that bear watching (coming in at number 23). This selection is based on revenues and growth, with Accounting Today noting that some companies previously named to the list are now among the top 100 accounting firms in the country.

The organization also placed James Moore among the top accounting firms in the Gulf Coast region, an area that includes the states of Florida, Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi.
