

UK200Group and AGN International Announce Affiliation to Enhance Global Business Support

In a notable development in the international business landscape, two of the most reputable professional services organisations, UK200Group and AGN International, are pleased to announce a strategic affiliation. The affiliation is grounded in shared values, high standards, and a commitment to providing robust support to UK200Group's UK membership and their clients conducting international business.

The move will see both organisations adding value to their members with complementary resources and knowledge to drive enhanced services to their clients. The focus will be on fostering a strong sense of community, promoting ethical business practices, and facilitating seamless referrals between firms.

Declan Swan, CEO of UK200Group, said, "This affiliation is a testament to our commitment to our members. By joining forces with AGN International, a like-minded organisation with a strong ethos and high standards, we can offer an even greater level of support to UK200Group member firms and their clients operating across borders."

Malcolm Ward, CEO of AGN International echoed Swan's sentiments, "Our relationship with UK200Group is not just about expanding our footprint in the UK. It's about strengthening our ability to serve our members better by leveraging each other's strengths and resources."

The initiative will also provide a platform for professional development and knowledge sharing among member firms of both organisations. Members can look forward to a wealth of resources, insights, and opportunities to serve clients on a global scale.

Swan added, "In today's complex and interconnected business world, International coverage is more crucial than ever. Our relationship with AGN International will empower our members and their clients to navigate international business challenges with confidence."

Ward concluded, "We're excited to embark on this journey with UK200Group. Together, we will create a powerful professional services force that supports, inspires, and drives success for all our members and their clients."

More details about the collaboration and its benefits for members will be shared in the coming weeks.
