12-19 November 2026

A place of immense biodiversity and natural wonders, fringed by reef and rainforest. Tropical North Queensland is rich in natural beauty. It is home to incredible waterfalls, the world's largest coral reef system and 30 National Parks. The weather in November is generally hot, humid with rain often appearing as short, refreshing afternoon showers. Average temperatures around 30-31C (86-66F).

The Great Barrier Reef is also excellent, often featuring calmer, clearer waters. November 1 marks the beginning of stinger season, so protective, lightweight stinger suits" are required for swimming in the ocean or on the reef. (Provided on the reef trips).
